PART I

Item 1. Description of Business.

(a) Business Development.

The Company was incorporated in the State of Delaware in 1973. The Company had been dormant for several years until October, 2000. In the past fiscal year the Company determined to pursue the market that was developing in California as the result of voter approval of Las Vegas style gaming in California tribal casinos. On October 6, 2000, the Company entered into its first contract for the sale of its used equipment to a California tribal casino, the Sho-Ka-Wah Casino located in Hopland, California.

(b) The Company's Business.

Based upon the business opportunities which we believe exist in the tribal casino market in California, we registered and received a Determination of Suitability to do business in the State of California in the past fiscal year. The Company has also been granted tribal vendor and gaming license approval by the Colusa Tribal Council and Gaming Commission, Colusa, California and a temporary vendor license by the Hopland Tribal Council and Gaming Commission. The Company entered into a contract with the Sho-Ka-Wah Casino on October 6, 2000 which provided for the sale of 230 used gaming devices of various makes and manufacture in consideration for $720,300. The Company received $360,150 and delivered 120 machines in March 2001. The Company has not delivered the remaining equipment contracted for because the Sho-Ka-Wah Casino has not paid the balance owed under the contract. To mitigate its damages, the Company sold 80 of the remaining gaming devices covered by the contract to Gamemasters, a private Nevada sole proprietorship owned by Michael Wichinsky, the beneficial owner of 19.4 percent of the Company's outstanding common stock and the father of Glenn E. Wichinsky, the Company's President and Claudia D. Wichinsky, a director of the Company. See Certain Relationships and Related Transactions.

During the past two fiscal years, the Company has not engaged in any research and development of new gaming products and no new gaming machines were manufactured. The Company did not extend its market or the marketing of its products during the past fiscal year, beyond those activities discussed above with the Sho-Ka-Wah Casino. However, the Company anticipates that it will continue marketing of quality used and refurbished gaming equipment for sale or lease in legal domestic gaming jurisdictions or for export to foreign markets. At present, the Company's only customer is the Sho-Ka-Wah Casino. The Company has three salaried employees and one commissioned independent agent sales representative. All employees work part-time.

Competition

The gaming machine industry is highly competitive. Bally Gaming ("Bally") and International Gaming Technology ("IGT") are principal domestic competitors. Additionally, Asian and Australian manufacturing and marketing companies have entered the domestic market and have become a significant competitive factor. Newer technology has made certain products obsolete. The Company has lacked the financial resources to compete in markets for the sale of new products and seeks to redirect its emphasis into the marketing of quality used gaming equipment.

Government Regulation

Manufacturers, distributors and operators of gaming equipment in the State of Nevada, Atlantic City, New Jersey, and secondary domestic gaming markets are subject to licensure and extensive regulation. These licenses are issued after extensive investigations into the personal history and financial background of the individuals and entities applying for a gaming license. These licenses are revocable and non-transferable.

The investigative cost of seeking a gaming license is borne by the person or company applying for the license. A state gaming commission of one state may deny the granting of a gaming license to persons who are legally engaged in gaming activities in other states. Because of the substantial investigative costs of obtaining state gaming licenses in Nevada, New Jersey, and in secondary markets, the Company has deferred any decision to currently seek state gaming licenses in these markets. Indian Tribal Commissions or Agencies operate in the same manner as state regulating authorities. Each Indian tribe that operates a casino has its own gaming regulatory authority that governs the application procedures for its tribe. These application procedures and investigation costs may be a limiting factor to the Company in being competitive with other companies.

Patents

The Company held one United States Patent issued in fiscal 1979 relating to the design and operation of its products and their various components. The Company's patent rights expired in 1996, however, the Patent was the subject of litigation for patent infringement initiated in 1994. In or about May, 1994, the Company filed a complaint in the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey alleging patent infringement against Bally's Park Place, Inc., Trump Plaza Associates, and several other gambling companies. The Company alleged in its complaint that the defendants infringed upon a patent it owned for the manufacture, use or sale of slot machines driven by stepper motors. The Company sought damages for the past infringement of its patent for this product. Over the years related lawsuits were filed and appeals taken by the non-prevailing parties. The final appeal was decided in March 2001. The Company did not prevail. All actions involving the respective parties were dismissed with prejudice with each party bearing their own attorney's fees and costs.

Item 2. Description of Property.

Not Applicable.

Item 3. Legal Proceedings.

The Company is not a party to any material pending legal proceeding.

Item 4. Submission of Matters to a Vote of Security Holders.

No matter was submitted to the vote of security holders during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2001.

PART II

Item 5. Market for Common Equity and Related Stockholder Matters.

The common stock of the Company is traded in the over-the-counter market in the “Pink Sheets”. The Company had 2,715 shareholders of record on September 21, 2001.

The following table indicates the range of high and low bid prices in the “Pink Sheets” of the Company’s common stock for the quarterly periods ending September 30, 1999 through June 30, 2001.

The foregoing over-the counter market quotations reflect inter-dealer prices, without retail mark-up, mark-down, or commission, and may not necessarily represent actual transactions.

The Company did not pay any dividends during the foregoing periods, nor does it anticipate paying dividends within the foreseeable future. However, there are no restrictions on the ability of the Company to declare dividends on its common stock.

On July 2, 2000, the Company granted an option to purchase shares of its common stock to Joann M. Vrbancic in consideration for her future services as a director. The terms of the option provided that Ms. Vrbancic would be granted the right to purchase 100,000 shares per year for a five year period beginning July 2, 2000. The exercise price per share was $.025. She resigned as a director on June 29, 2001. She has not exercised any of her options. Her resignation terminated her right to acquire 400,000 of the 500,000 option shares. The Company believes that the grant of options to Ms. Vrbancic are exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933 pursuant to Section 4(2) of that Act, as a transaction by an issuer not involving any public offering for, among other reasons, the following: (1) no general solicitation or advertising was used; (2) the transaction was isolated; and (3) Ms. Vrbancic had access to information about the Company that an available registration statement would provide.

Item 6. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

Some of the principal shareholders of the Company have informally agreed to participate in the contribution of shares to the Company, which the Company will have available for acquisitions of assets of other businesses. With the exception of the program to make acquisitions through use of these shares, the Company has not yet formulated any specific financing arrangements.

The Company presently lacks financial resources. The lack of financial resources has prohibited the Company from expanding operations. The primary gaming markets cannot be serviced unless the Company obtains gaming licenses in these states. Because of the prohibitive costs of obtaining these licenses, the Company has no plans to seek licensing in these states, but is attempting to enter a secondary market of Indian Tribal casinos operating in California, subject to obtaining the necessary financing.

Total debt of the Company aggregated $841,500 (exclusive of accounts payable and accrued interest and expenses) for the years ending June 30, 2001, and 2000. Of these amounts, $617,100 was owed to Michael Wichinsky, and the remainder to the Estate of W. T. O'Donnell, Sr., affiliates of the Company. Total revenues were $255,300 in the June 30, 2001 fiscal year and zero in the previous fiscal year. The revenues were derived from the sale of gaming machines to an Indian Tribal casino in California. Prior to October, 2000, the Company had not conducted any business for several years. As of June 30, 2001 and 2000, the Company had negative working capital of $2,145,300 and $2,036,100, respectively.

The Company did not manufacture any gaming devices during the fiscal years ending June 30, 2001 and 2000, and does not anticipate having the necessary resources for the research, development and manufacture of gaming devices in the near future.

Item 12. Certain Relationships and Related Transactions.

Under the terms of a contract dated October 6, 2000, the Sho-Ka-Wah Casino agreed to purchase 230 used gaming machines from the Company in consideration for a total purchase price of $720,300. Following execution of the contract, the Company agreed to purchase 150 of the machines and parts for those machines from Gamemasters. Gamemasters is a sole proprietorship owned by Michael Wichinsky, the beneficial owner of 19.45% of the Company's common stock and the father of Glenn Wichinsky, the Company's President and Claudia Wichinsky, a Director of the Company. The remaining 80 machines were purchased from an unaffiliated third party. The Sho-Ka-Wah Casino only paid $360,100 of the selling price and only 120 of the machines were delivered. These 120 machines were purchased on account from Gamemasters at a total price of $184,100. The Company never received the remaining 30 machines from Gamemasters and Gamemasters agreed to assume any losses incurred by its having originally acquired these devices for subsequent re-sale to the Company.

Regarding the remaining 80 machines purchased from a third party, the Company's base cost for these machines was $270,000. The Company determined that these 80 gaming devices were not readily marketable in other gaming jurisdictions without an investment of a substantial capital. In addition, these devices required upgrading which would have entailed additional cost to the Company. To mitigate its damages, the Company accepted an offer of purchase from Gamemasters to acquire these 80 machines in "as-is condition" without any requirement on the Company for further program upgrading at a cost of $270,000, the price paid by the Company to the third party. This amount was offset by money owed to Gamemasters related to the purchase of the original 120 used gaming machines which were delivered and for orders of additional parts and associated equipment previously shipped to the Sho-Ka-Wah Casino. The balance due to the Company was $85,895. Under the terms of an agreement between the Company and Gamemasters dated June 11, 2001 Gamemasters agreed to pay the Company $10,000 per month without interest until its debt was paid. The payments began in July 2001 and will continue to March 2002. The Company determined not to assess interest on the $85,895 balance because Gamemasters had relieved it of its obligation for the 30 machines Gamemasters had purchased for resale to the Company. See Financial Statements, Note 3.

The Company believes that the transactions with Gamemasters described above are fair and reasonable and in its best interest. The Company believes that the consideration received for the resale to Gamemasters was equal to or greater than it could have obtained in an arm's length transaction with an unaffiliated third party. The gaming machines were used. They required upgrading and modifications to be used in other gaming markets. Management believed it was prudent to sell the devices in their present condition at cost to further cash flow and sustain short term operations rather than upgrade them. Additionally, the consideration received for the sale of the equipment was used partially to set off prior indebtedness of the Company to Gamemasters for previously acquired used gaming devices, parts and associated equipment.

Since the early 1980s, the Company, as needed, has received loans of money from Michael Wichinsky and the Estate of William T. O'Donnell, Sr. The William T. O'Donnell Estate is a beneficial owner of 17% of the Company's outstanding common stock. The principal amount of the loans is $841,500, of which $511,600 is owed to Mr. Wichinsky at an annual interest rate of 8%, $105,500 is owed to Mr. Wichinsky at an annual interest rate of 10% and $224,400 is owed to the William T. O'Donnell Estate at an annual interest rate of 8%. All of the notes are due on demand. The total amount of accrued interest on the notes is $1,254,400. These loans by two of the Company's affiliates are based on terms much better than the Company would have been capable of receiving in an arm's length transaction with third parties. The Company's financial condition precludes it from borrowing money from conventional lenders. The willingness of the William T. O'Donnell Estate and Mr. Wichinsky to lend the Company money as needed has enabled the Company to continue to operate.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors and Stockholders
Global Gaming and Technology, Inc.
Las Vegas, Nevada

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Global Gaming and Technology, Inc. as of June 30, 2001 and 2000, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholders' deficit, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Global Gaming and Technology, Inc. as of June 30, 2001 and 2000 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements, the Company has negative working capital, and no significant operations or sources of revenue. Those conditions raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans regarding those matters are also described in Note 2. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

1. Summary of significant accounting policies:

Organization and nature of business:

Global Gaming and Technology, Inc. (the " Company") was incorporated in the State of Delaware in 1973. The Company, although dormant for the last several years, has been engaged in the research, development, manufacture, and marketing of electronic gaming devices and coinless games of chance.

Use of estimates in preparation of financial statements:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Loss per share:

Loss per share was computed by dividing the net loss by the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period.

Revenue recognition:

The Company recognizes revenue upon the delivery of the machines.

Reclassifications:

Certain accounts in the prior period financial statements have been reclassified for comparative purposes to conform with the presentation in the current year financial statements.

2. Organization's ability to continue as a going concern:

The Company was dormant for the past several years and lacks the resources to be competitive in the gaming industry at the present time. As of June 30, 2001, the Company has negative working capital of $2,145,300 and stockholders' deficit of $2,145,100.

3. Related party transactions:

Note receivable, related party at June 30, 2001 of $85,900 is due from a company under common control, is non-interest bearing, and is scheduled to mature in March, 2002.

3. Related party transactions (continued):

Notes payable at June 30, 2001 and 2000 consist of $841,500 due to stockholders, bearing interest at 8% and 10%, and are due on demand. Accrued interest at June 30, 2001 and 2000 was $1,254,400 and $1,185,000 and the company incurred interest expense of $69,400 and $69,600 during the years then ended, respectively.

Accounts payable, related parties consists of amounts due to stockholders and a company under common control, are non-interest bearing, and due on demand.

The Company purchased machines and parts from a company under common control totaling $184,100 during the year ended June 30, 2001.

4. Inventories

The Company has inventory consisting of ten (10) slot machines from a settlement arising out of litigation with Universal Distributing of Nevada, Inc. Pursuant to SFAS 121 "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of", the Company evaluated the recoverability of the long-lived assets. Due to rapid changes in gaming technology, the machines did not hold their value and during the year ended June 30, 1999 were written down to the estimated fair value. The estimated fair value was based on an offer to purchase the machines. During the year ended June 30, 2001, this inventory was determined to be worthless and was written off accordingly.

5. Deferred revenue:

On October 6, 2000, the Company entered into a contract for sale of goods with a tribal gaming operation in California for the purchase of 230 reconditioned machines for $720,300. The Company received a down payment of $360,100 and delivered 120 machines. The remaining contract is in negotiations. Deferred revenue has been recorded based on the number of machines delivered for which the down payment has been received.

6. Income taxes:

The benefit for income taxes is different than the amount computed by applying the statutory federal income tax rate to net loss before taxes. A reconciliation of the net income tax benefit follows:

	2001	2000
Computed tax benefit at federal statutory rate	$ 37,200	$ 35,300
Expired net operating loss carry forwards	(77,100)	(94,200)
Changed in deferred income tax valuation allowance	39,900	58,900
	$ --	$ --

6. Income taxes (continued):
